

Yale Alumni Service Corps

Changing Lives Through Service Work Around the World

The Yale Alumni Service Corps (YASC) is a strategic initiative of the Association of Yale Alumni (AYA) that seeks to connect alumni in service oriented programs throughout the world promoting cultural understanding, service work and education. YASC offers innovative service opportunities for alumni, families, and friends building on the diverse talents and energies of these volunteers to provide critical services to communities in need. Project groups vary from Construction to Medicine, Education, Sports, Business Consulting, and more. These programs provide opportunities to work alongside people in the local community, enjoy meaningful cross-cultural exchange, and form incredible bonds with fellow alumni who share a passion for service.

YASC's Mission

Volunteer Service is the basis of YASC with programs created to offer opportunities for alumni to provide health & education services to impoverished communities in crisis

Global & Domestic Programs have been successfully planned in the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Brazil, China & Nicaragua over the last four years and the programs for 2013 include Ghana & a domestic project in West Virginia

Learning About Others through cultural exchange including visits to private houses, village water filter distribution, teaching English, dance, music, math, painting & computers, building playgrounds & libraries, coaching soccer & baseball, conducting medical clinics, health education and small business consulting for local entrepreneurs & farmers

Enduring Impact occurs as YASC partners with local universities and other service organizations to enrich programs and ensure volunteers share their skills with community leaders, local health care workers and students to promote self sufficiency & sustainability.
